LICENSE RANK: AMATEUR / EXPERT (please circle one, If You're not sure which, read the paragraphs below. If you haven't raced before you are definitely an amateur.

If You have a roadrace license from another sanction and haven't raced with us please show license or photocopy and send in with this form. Riders wishing to race must prove experience or pass the race school on Saturday. There will be a $100.00 charge to take the race school (possibly the cheapest in the nation). The race school will be a half day school with both track time and classroom teaching covering all safety aspects of actual racing not included at our regular riders meeting. The school will give diploma's to all riders passing and allow You to get a race license. To those who have raced with us the last year there is no need to take this class. We have your names on record and You need only to buy a license.

What rank am I? ASMA officials will be the final judge of this. We will allow no cherry picking. Riders who have never raced will be allowed to race in the beginner class. Starting in 2003, the beginner class was open to all riders who raced less than 3 events, and riders who also did not win a novice race. This is to give new riders a chance to get their feet wet before advancing to the amateur ranks. Riders who raced amateur are eligible for amateur rank, with the exception of a few riders who we will notify that have been promoted to expert. A rider who starts out as an amateur will be allowed to race amateur for the full 2008 season to be eligible for championship awards. Beginner is the only class without a championship. The Beginner class in 2008 will be open to all new racers, and those racers who did not win of any beginner races in 2007. Beginners will be moved up when they have either won a beginner race or finished in the top 3 five times. Otherwise, riders will be allowed to race the Beginner class indefinitely.

Please allow 2-4 weeks for processing. Make sure to include your evening phone number so we can call in case there are any problems with your application. Please fill out this form and send to ASMA, 20030 Hwy 549 S.E. Deming, NM. 88030. Cost for a race license is only $75.00. Make check or money order payable to ASMA Racing.

Transponder Information: For 2008 ASMA will be using computerized timing and scoring for as many classes as possible. We do not charge for transponder rentals on race weekends, although many of our members wish to use them during trackdays. While we will rent them on non race weekend trackdays, we do not have enough to rent them on race weekends. Racers who wish to own their own transponder can now purchase them and get all their laptimes from each session during any ASMA event, trackdays or racing. If you later decide to sell your transponder, we will refund up to $150.00 for a transponder in good shape.

I want a transponder. If you own your own transponder you can get your lap times from any event$175.00
